Ы Ы

Watch for Both letters are built from the element that the cursive sources name as shared by и, л, м, ш, щ and ы, and combinations of these letters cannot be deciphered unambiguously without knowing the language or without a broader context. The sources give no shape test, only context: read the whole word, then compare the doubtful place with parts of the same document you have already read. The worked example offered is волшебник against домик, where the pairs лш and ми are written identically.
